

The Grooveline Horns are an internationally known three-man horn section that is highly sought after by some of the music industry's biggest names. They are Carlos Sosa (sax), Fernando Castillo (trumpet) and Reggie Watkins (trombone).

Outside of touring/recording with Jason Mraz, The Grooveline Horns have also gone out on the road with and/or recorded with the following plus many more: Rob Thomas, Kelly Clarkson, Blues Traveler, Willie Nelson, Warren Haynes, Dave Matthews, Ozomatli, Suicidal Tendencies, Infectious Grooves, Lisa Hannigan, Luscious Jackson, The Meters, Don Henley, Bob Schneider, The Scabs, Boombox, Ivan Neville's Dumpstaphunk, Billy Bob Thornton, Pat Green, La Mafia, Salvador, Ugly Americans, Doyle Bramhall w/ Double Trouble, La Tribu, Eric Hutchinson, Stephen Bruton, and Kim Wilson.

The Grooveline Horns also have some accolades as well including the following:

2005 Latin Grammy Winner with "La Mafia"

Best Horn Section – Austin Chronicle – 1997, 1998, 1999, 2000, 2001, 2003, 2006

For more information on Grooveline Horns as well as sound recordings please visit: <http://www.billsilvaentertainment.com/resources/groovelinehorns/index.html>

